

- 1) This week we have worked with fixing the calendar on the booking and admin page. Neither of us had a lot of experience with this so it was a bit tricky and we had to look up things as we worked. My goals from last week remains the same. I still want to get better at coding both back as well as front end (both JavaScript, HTML, and CSS) and aim to achieve this goal by continuing coding and getting more experience.
- 2) As mentioned we didn't have much experience with what we worked on this week so in that regard everyone had things to learn together. I plan to continue helping my peers through discussion when possible and needed.
- 3) In relation to the team's use of scrum, I've helped create user stories, dividing them into tasks, and checking the code of my peers.
- 4) We continued working in teams even this sprint where I helped with the tasks our team was given. I have also helped with the team reflection.
