- I want to learn more about the whole software project development process.
- I will try to teach the team the knowledge I've gathered in previous courses and teach others about the business model canvas.
- I won't be able to help a lot with the use of scrum in the beginning since I haven't used it before but will try to help as much as possible in the later stages.
- I will try to contribute towards the team's deliveries by working on the code as much as possible.
