What do I want to learn or understand better?

As this was the last sprint, I do not have any goals regarding what I want to learn for next week. I do however feel like that test would be beneficial to learn more about for future projects.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

I can help the team to learn something new by being available when help is needed. Furthermore, I can tell the team my previous experience to make sure that they know what knowledge I have.

What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

I together with the rest of the team decided which user stories that we moved to the sprint backlog. Furthermore, I was active in breaking down the user stories in tasks.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

This week I contributed by fixing some bugs with the calendar such as making it scrollable. I did also spend a lot of time with the final reflection. The team members that are studying IT do have exams the week after this one and had to because of this spend more time studying. Because of this the team members that are studying Industrial engineering and management toke extra responsibility for the final team reflection. The team members from IT did of course contribute to the final reflection but the members from I did make sure to take extra responsibility.